IAS COVID-19 Conference: Prevention – Delegate Guide to Accessing the Conference Platform

The IAS COVID-19 Conference: Prevention will take place online on 2 February, using a dynamic and user-friendly platform that delegates can navigate much like a website. With a combination of live, taped and on-demand presentations, the conference will include the latest science and feature leading researchers, implementers and advocates from around the world. The full programme can be found here. Below are tips to access the discussions held and content shared at the conference. If you have additional questions or need assistance, please contact the e-Congress assistance via iascovid2021@key4events.com. The team will answer any questions you might have about the IAS COVID-19 Conference: Prevention platform. For questions about the conference programme and content, please contact covidconf@iasociety.org.

Accessing the Conference
To open the IAS COVID-19 Conference: Prevention platform, a Conference Account is required.

Your Conference Account, accessed via the HIVR4P website, is linked to the email address you used for registration. We recommend you check your Conference Account prior to the event to ensure your registration status is shown as Registration Confirmed. Without this, you will not be able to access IAS COVID-19 Conference: Prevention.
Use this link to log in to the conference platform. To access the platform, please enter the user name and password you provided when you registered for the conference.

Once you sign in, click the icon labeled "IAS COVID-19 Conference: Prevention" to access the conference homepage.
